SUBMARINE SCARE HAS SOMEWHAT SUBSIDED

Every Precaution Yet Taken by Allied Craft Approaching Shores of America

ALL THE DAMAGE WAS INFLICTED BY ONE U-BOAT, SAY AMERICAN NAVAL OFFICERS—MORE ATTACKS MAY BE REPORTED ANY MINUTE

(Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 10.—Although nothing further has been heard of the German submarine which did so much damage to shipping off the Atlantic coast Sunday night, owners and agents of vessels of the entente nations continued taking precautions today. Several passenger liners arrived. The British liner Cameronia approached New York harbor with all lights out except one at the mast-head after swinging far to the south to avoid the vicinity of Nantucket lightship.

The Greek steamship Patris, which arrived in port this morning reported sighting a submarine early Monday morning off Nantucket.

CREW OF KINGSTON MISSING

Newport, Oct. 10.—U. S. destroyers today continued to hunt for the crew of the British liner Kingston, the members of which have been missing since they left the ship Sunday on the order of a German submarine commander. No further reports have been received here of the submarine of submarines which sank six ships Sunday.

PRESIDENT IS STUDYING THE PROBLEM

Long Branch, Oct. 10.—President Wilson shut himself up in his study this morning to go over the evidence the navy department has collected concerning German submarine activity off the American coast. There is every indication that he received nothing necessitating drastic action. The president made arrangements to see Secretary Lansing and French Ambassador Jusserand later.

ENTENTE CONTENTION DENIED BY AMERICA

Washington, Oct. 10.—The United States has refused to accept the contention of the Entente Allies urging neutrals to deny the use of their harbors to all submarines, whether warships or merchantmen, Counselor Polk of the state department, announced.

Mr. Polk declined to discuss the reasons for the department's decision.

SUB WAS SOLITARY

New port, Oct. 10.—The submarine said on shipping south of Nantucket was the work of one submersible, according to Admiral Gleaves, commandant of the destroyer flotilla, which did remarkably speedy rescue work. "Admiral Gleaves said last night that he reports from all his officers agree that only one raider was concerned. This boat is presumably the German submarine U-53, which called here Saturday.

PAPER SOLVES THE PROBLEM

CREATED IN AUSTRO-HUNGARY BY INABILITY TO SECURE AMERICAN COTTON

(Associated Press)

Vienna, Oct. 10.—Paper has proved of extraordinary value as a substitute for cotton since the American crop was cut off, helping solve one of Austro-Hungary's great economic problems, Arthur Kuffler, president of the war association of cotton spinners, told the Associated Press. He exhibited a wide assortment of fabrics made from a mixture of paper yarn as the warp and cotton or wool as a filling, ranging from a fine grade to coarse fabrics.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES SPOKE IN OCALA

The republican campaign speaking at the courthouse last evening drew quite a good crowd, about half of those present being colored. All the speakers were accorded an attentive hearing, and at times they were applauded.

Mr. George W. Neville of Dunellon, chairman of the county executive committee, was master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers. Mr. Allen of Key West, nominee of the party for governor, was the first speaker, and led off with the advice that Marion county people support Judge William Gober for representative in Congress and in that way get protection of the citrus fruit industry. He also boosted the cause of Mr. J. M. Cheney of Orlando, for justice of the supreme court, declaring him to be just the man for the place.

Mr. Allen said he was not asking the democrats to vote for him, but was simply traveling the state to let the voter look him over, though he had been assured he would receive a large vote because of the "muddle" between the other gubernatorial nominees. He cited the election in Maine as an example of what people sometimes did when the party leaders placed themselves in a position not desirable to the voters. "We need political diversion in Florida," said Mr. Allen, and he declared that the present outlook was that we would have it after the November election.

Mr. Cheney said that the election of Judge Gober to Congress was what the people of this district needed, as this would bring about protection to the citrus fruit and other industries which were the life of Florida. He declared that the whole country needed a change of administration, and in proof recounted the stand of the present one in its Philippine Mexican and other policies of the past few years, declaring that with a republican in the chair our national honor would be better protected. He said that the republican party had seen the error of its tactics of the last campaign and was now one grand united organization as of yore "going forward to victory." He told the democratic voters in his audience that they were dissatisfied with their primary law, their nominations and the actions of their leaders of late, and implored them not to be ashamed to vote their honest convictions at the November election and help to rid themselves of the whole outfit, and get their share of the great "protection" wave that would hit us after the election.

Mr. Bishop of Eustis, candidate for Congress from his district, made a speech for his friends Allen, Cheney and Gober, telling our people of the many good things that awaited the state of Florida as soon as we declared our faith in the g. o. p. and get aboard the protection band wagon. Judge Gober was the last of the speakers, and said he had no intention of keeping the audience longer, as he and his principles were well known to his hearers, besides the political ground had been covered by those who preceded him. He however, made a good speech, giving his reasons for his recent affiliations with the g. o. p. He took occasion to rap the administration for many alleged shortcomings and said these things would be eliminated from our fair land when the republicans went into power next March.

Many were present at the meeting from nearby towns.

Jacksonville, Oct. 10.—The address of Senator Duncan U. Fletcher to the citizens of Florida on "Rural Credits" Wednesday night, October 19, during the annual fall festival and opening of the Armour packing plant celebration in Jacksonville, is creating attention throughout the state and a large number of people have stated their intention of hearing the father of the rural credit bill deliver his address.

Among the Ocala people registered at the Hotel Aragon Saturday was R. S. Hall, who is well known in this city. Mr. Hall has just returned from a business visit to New York city, and declares the prospects for a greater number of tourists to the state this winter are good.

RANEY CALLS ON DEMOCRATS TO RALLY

(Tampa Tribune)

The democratic campaign committee will open its headquarters in Jacksonville today and will at once begin an active and systematic campaign for the election of the nominees certified Saturday by the secretary of state. All nominees of the primary will be called upon to come to the support of the party and to take the stump. Chairman Raney will at once send out a general call to arms asking the democrats to rally to the party's support. Speakers, campaign booklets and literature and newspaper articles will be extensively used to inform the voters and to show that the democratic party should be continued in power. Never since the campaign of 1876, when the democrats rescued the state government from the republicans, has there been a campaign as planned by the committee. The voters of Florida, many for the first time, will experience what real campaign is.

FROM THE FRONT

The Star this morning had a postcard from Laredo, announcing that the boys of Company A were all well and having a good time. The postcard had an inscription saying there were 923 dead Mexican bandits, which we regret to say was an exaggeration by the number of 919.
